Last game, last dance, last year . . . senior students led in present school activities while preparing for the future.

Within the confines of his school, the R-B student freely developed his mind. The curriculum provided a wide range of electives from which he chose his preparation for the future. The classroom offered him challenges of minds matched in thoughtful competition.

Within the physical facilities of R-B, he freely expanded his heart. His capacity for liking increased to encompass the many new friends he found here. His compassion was augmented by the experience he gained here.

Within this book, the past year at R-B has been recorded. It is presented as a record of the heart and the mind, as a memory of the growth of a soul and the shaping of a future.

Physical facilities provided settings for student

endeavors

A school building in itself is only as valuable as the student progress taking place inside of it. Not only is R-B's school building important as a means of physical protection from the elements, but its facilities are excellent and essential to effective education.

The freshman struggling over his first examination . . . the beginning swimmer gathering all his courage for a deep-water plunge . . . the satisfied chemistry student who experiences delight in the manufacture of oxygen . . . these were some of the pupils who received from the building the gift of learning.

What a school edifice provides for the student — an opportunity for education — will never have boundaries.

Academic Content

In the encompassment of the classroom, students have become acquainted with, among others, Pythagoras, Caesar, Newton, Archimedes, Jefferson, and Chaucer. Pupils have experienced the feelings of joy, bewilderment, and remorse within its painted walls. Their speeches, inquiries, and responses have reverberated until the rooms themselves have become deaf to the noise.

New interests and duties helped R-B-ites

Experiencing the fascinating world of chemistry, students perform an exacting laboratory experiment.

During the school year of 1959-1960, the students at Riverside-Brookfield Township High School experienced a stimulating period of discovery. Each day as they gathered within the familiar walls, energetic pupils uncovered many fascinating treasures — new friends to meet and enjoy, different interests to explore and comprehend, original humor to amuse themselves, and various obligations to fulfill. The students found new ideas and techniques to make learning effective and more enjoyable, as they began to realize the significant place that knowledge would find in their near futures. Within the realm of the academic life presented to them in their classrooms, busy students met new ideas, people, and experiences that challenged them to further exploration. This spirit of discovery — one of the deciding influences of the future — became a motivating force at Riverside-Brookfield High School during the past year. Laughter, friendship, knowledge, and discovery — all these were experienced by R-B-ites in the enlightening atmosphere of their school.

Faculty, Administration

Because the student of today is the citizen of tomorrow, he must be prepared to face the challenges of life. The faculty of a school is extremely important in the molding of numerous lives. The teacher attempts to imbed in his students the desire to attain more knowledge and skill through research. The teacher creates the incentive for clear thinking and resourcefulness, desirable traits in future adults. The faculty is composed of dedicated individuals striving to help youth reach their desired goals. In the following section, we present the faculty and administration of R-B.

Guidance and teaching occupied with knowledge and guidance important to character

The Board of Education joined with Superintendent

Reviewing the minutes of the last meeting is Board of Education President Robert W. Murphy, who is serving his third consecutive year in that office.

In the hands of seven capable members of the BOARD OF EDUCATION rested the many policy decisions which affected the educational lives of every R-B student.

Beyond their normal responsibilities in supervising and administering the needs of R-B, the board members: studied plans for a building addition and submitted the proposal to the voters in a bond referendum; approved an expanded, non-credit summer school program; and authorized curriculum changes.

The Board of Education is to be congratulated for its continuing efforts to make Riverside-Brookfield Township High School one of the nation's outstanding secondary schools.

Brown in preparing for the future of District 208

"The long years ahead are laid like blocks on the years that are past—and 1960 in the years of Riverside-Brookfield High School carries its share of history.

"The school's professional staff has grown to 92 members. The student body, for the first time, has reached 1750, of whom a record 450 are in the graduating class.

"Together with this physical growth there is a new tone of serious quest for improvement. Students show a new awareness that they are both human beings—and human becomings. There are more who are seriously preparing themselves to achieve their best, and to bring to this world their highly developed abilities.

"This is a part of a renewed national awareness that what America stands for and believes in is a quest—and not a bequest. The ideals that are American have to be sought and earned by each new generation. They cannot simply be inherited.

"This, I believe, is the major task of Riverside-Brookfield in the decade just begun—to bring to youth the personal awareness that they are "becoming" and that the quality of these years of preparation will determine what they become—and what their world will become."

LA RUE G. THOMPSON
B.A., M.A., University of Illinois
Dean of Boys; Sponsor of School Council

Mr. Thompson began his work as dean of boys at R-B in 1944. This past year, as in previous years, he was responsible for the attendance and discipline of every male R-B student. Despite these time-consuming duties, Mr. Thompson advised student government in his sponsorship of School Council. He also advised the management of honor study halls. When Mr. Thompson had some time for himself, he enjoyed a variety of sports.

EDNA A. MICHAEL
B.M., Chicago-Bush Conservatory of Music; B.A., M.A., University of Illinois
Dean of Girls; Chairman of the Guidance Department; Sponsor of Sharclub

Miss Michael was a familiar figure in the personnel office, where she conducted her work. As dean, she was responsible for the attendance and discipline of all the girls at Riverside-Brookfield High School. In addition to her regular duties, Miss Michael was the sponsor of Sharclub, the R-B girls' service organization. With a keen interest in music, Miss Michael enjoyed dancing and other forms of musical expression in her leisure time.

WILLIAM H. JOHNSON
B.S., M.S., Western Illinois University
Business Manager

Mr. Johnson held an important job in the management of Riverside-Brookfield High School this year, and yet very few students realized the many responsibilities of his work. It was Mr. Johnson's duty to purchase any equipment or material necessary to the successful management of the high school. He was also responsible for the maintenance of the school building. With the many obligations connected with his work, Mr. Johnson had little spare time. Whenever he had a few leisure moments, he enjoyed his favorite pastimes of bowling and golf.

"I love to teach, and I shall miss R-B very much." These were the words of Miss Ruth Cleary, head of the Business Education Department, who retired this year after 29 years of service at R-B. Besides teaching regular business courses, Miss Cleary instructed the popular psychology course and was in charge of the bookstore and financial records of school activities.

Both the students and faculty of R-B will always remember Miss Cleary and wish her success in her well-earned retirement.

Seniors

The largest class ever to enter Riverside-Brookfield High School weathered the underclass levels, and, in the fall of 1959, entered their school as the leaders and pace-setters of the student body—as seniors. While they engineered activities in the athletic, interest, and service fields, seniors planned their futures in industry and in higher education. Ever-beckoning graduation in June found the seniors donning caps and gowns to receive their all-important diplomas—symbols of four years of work, fun, and growth.

Attaining their goal after four years of hard work and service, forty-eight outstanding seniors were chosen as members of the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY. Elected by the faculty members, these students were judged on the four-fold basis of character, leadership, scholarship, and service. For those so honored, membership in National Honor Society was a fitting climax to four successful years at R-B.

Underclassmen

Although they wandered confusedly through the halls for the first few days, the freshmen soon learned R-B rules and customs. They joined the sophomores and juniors in a whirlwind of underclass activities. There were dances to plan, clubs to join, teams to compete with—and the underclassmen eagerly participated in all these activities. The school work grew harder as the student progressed from freshman to sophomore and junior levels, but preparing for the future became fun when spiced with a variety of underclass activities.

Underclassmen gained experience in athletics, activities, and academic classwork

Important plans for the Junior Prom are now in full swing as Junior Class Sponsor Mrs. Heller, President Karen Larson, Secretary Mary Jane Lloyd, Business Manager William Miller, and Treasurer Frank Mudrak (standing) exchange their ideas.

An extremely rewarding year, the junior year, was full of fun and work for the Class of 1961. Fund raising campaigns, such as the Christmas card sale, kept the juniors busy trying to make their prom the best and most exciting dance of the year. June ended a year which offered every junior wonderful memories, including sports thrills and recollections of the Washington trip.

Next year's student leaders advanced sustain the spirit of the sophomore class

Endless spirit and ability were displayed by the sophomore class. They eagerly participated in all extra-curricular activities and presented an outstanding Council sponsored Bermuda dance, "June in January." Aside from their daily curriculum, the sophomores also compiled the 1960 student directory. Sophomore boys took an active interest in competitive sports, and the girls proved their leadership in various organizations.

This session of their literature class seems quite enjoyable to the sophomore students.

with R-B's varied activities

Although the freshmen entered R-B almost as strangers, they were soon accustomed to high school life. Class elections, dances, and tests, as well as that necessary evil, homework, were soon familiar to the Class of 1963. Enthusiastically working on all extra-curricular projects and showing their ability in sports activities, the freshman class proved themselves to be an integral part of R-B.

Organizations

By participating in the many extra-curricular activities which were offered by the school, R-B-ites found means of developing themselves into broad-minded young adults. The various organizations enabled students to indulge in service duties, sports activities, and interest clubs.

Group activities provided opportunities for formulating the friendships students maintained through the year. Both work and fun were entered into by co-operative and eager club members.

Student interests and enjoyments were emphasized in a wide variety of organizations

School Council developed keen minds and presented

SCHOOL COUNCIL was composed of sixty-one duly elected representatives of the four classes. It convened every week to plan new activities and projects that would: broaden the realm of the student body; establish firm relations with the administration, faculty, and the students; and act as a bonding agent between these forces to help bring about necessary improvements in the mechanics of the institution.

Under the leadership of Douglas Lange, president, and with the cooperation of Mr. Thompson, sponsor, the group outlined extra-curricular activities including the four annual Council dances, one planned by each class, and the Christmas party for the faculty. The annual Know Your Council Week extended from November 26-30. On November 28, the members staged an unrehearsed Council meeting on the stage of the auditorium as an assembly for the student body. Council also instigated the sale of sweat shirts to the student body. More than seven hundred orders were filled. This year the organization sponsored an underprivileged five year old Greek boy, Konstantinos. Council's financial aid to this youth provided him with some of the necessities of life and was typical of the services performed by the organization.

Discussing the latest Council plans are Corresponding Secretary Bette Rattner, Secretary Susan Kokes, President Douglas Lange, Sponsor Mr. Thompson, Vice-president Herbert Nolan, and Treasurer Roger Stedronsky.

The members participated in a whirlwind of activities throughout the school year.

On November 4, the organization presented a Daughter-Pop Dinner Hop which included after-dinner dancing for all and entertainment provided by the Senate members and their fathers. The dinner was accented by an exotic Hawaiian atmosphere. On February 13, the group held its annual turnabout dance. Later in the spring, the girls gave a costume dinner which was marked by the traditional spaghetti meal.

Jeff Seeberger offers the devotional during Hi-Y's annual Thanksgiving services, which are presented before the entire student body.

All junior and senior boys were eligible to join HI-Y. The members dedicated their services to promoting a Christian emphasis in the daily lives of the student body.

Under the guidance of the club sponsor, Mr. Paul Nemecek, they officiated at the solemn religious programs presented to the students just before the Thanksgiving and Easter vacations. During both of these inspiring services, which were held at the regular assembly time, five of the members delivered a prayer, some scripture passages, and a few appropriate thoughts on the forthcoming holidays. The choir accompaniment greatly augmented the services.

Highlighting the Yuletide festivities, they held their annual Christmas formal dance, entitled "Starlight Enchantment."

All athletes who had earned a letter in any sport during the year were eligible for membership in the LETTERMEN'S CLUB. The organization was sponsored by Mr. Lossin and Mr. VandeMerkt this year.

Proudly displaying their familiar royal blue "zibs," the boys assisted at all home basketball games by checking coats and hats, controlling the crowds, and acting as door guards. At other functions, it was their responsibility to set a good example for the rest of the student body.

R-B's "men in blue" were living examples of athletic prowess and honest endeavor to exemplify the spirit of good sportsmanship.

Lettermen fulfill their disciplinary duties by holding the restricting ropes along the edge of the basketball court during a home game.

Only junior and senior girls were eligible for membership in the USHER CLUB, which was sponsored by Miss Smith. They assisted at the two Masque and Wig plays, and the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises by being in charge of ticket collections and program issuance. They also officiated at the various band concerts and the National Honor Society presentation.

The select sophomore girls who constituted the BECEUS organization displayed examples of their dependability, character, and leadership qualities throughout the football and basketball seasons.

Supervised by Miss Edington, the girls sold refreshments at each of the home games, setting aside a per cent of their profits for gifts of needed equipment.

Newspapers, books, and magazines became student

The 1960 ROUSER staff, headed by Mr. Mohrhusen, sponsor; Lynn Prendergast, Editor in chief; Sally Svoboda, Art Editor; Karen Knoska, Copy Editor; and Sheryl Peterson, Photography Editor; diligently endeavored to present R-B students with a new and distinctive yearbook. The three staffs — art, copy, and photography — worked hard to fulfill their assignments of planning the layouts, writing the copy, and scheduling the pictures for the book.

With the change to the larger sized, nine inches by twelve inches format, the editors were faced with new problems in design and layout. Innovations and the challenge of creative expression determined the 1960 Rouser, a yearbook which the staff personnel hoped would long be remembered as an interesting record of the high school year.

During its second year, The PUBLIC RELATIONS STAFF proved to be an important part of R-B. Mr. Mohrhusen, with the aid of two senior girls, Diane Forsek and Jean Grill, strove to inform the public about the activities of students, organizations, faculty members, and the administration of R-B. These girls assisted Mr. Mohrhusen in preparing press releases and in sending newsletters to the parents of R-B students.

Preparing another news release, Mr. Mohrhusen dictates to Diane Forsek as Jean Grill types copy to be sent to local and metropolitan newspapers.

projects in publications staffs

SCOPE, R-B's student published magazine, provided an opportunity for gifted students to share their literary creativity with classmates. All work published was student written and student judged on the basis of originality, style, and appeal. John Tockstein, Editor in chief, found capable assistance in an editorial staff consisting of Jacqueline Smith, Publications Editor; Gudrun Schottler, Subscription Editor; and Gayle Ewinger, Secretarial Editor. Mr. Briggs, faculty sponsor, offered many valuable suggestions and helped Scope to function as a successful publication.

The staff of the CLARION, R-B's bi-weekly newspaper, with the able assistance of Mrs. Harris, the faculty sponsor, attempted in many ways to make changes in the Clarion.

The various staffs added new columns, revised many of the former features, and experimented with a new, non-gloss paper, while trying to please the entire student body. A special issue of the Clarion was presented at Christmas, featuring seasonal compositions by R-B students. The seniors were honored in a spring edition.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB, a select group, required that a girl have definite vocal ability and be able to read music. Together with the Boys' Glee Club, the girls assisted the Choir at the Christmas Concert and the Spring Music Festival.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB provided an opportunity for any boy who wished to sing. Students learned the fundamentals of vocal music, and selections ranged from show tunes to old favorites. The climax of the year's activities was participation in the Spring Music Festival.

The eighty voices of the A CAPPELLA CHOIR combined to bring musical harmony to R-B. Two concerts were presented to the student body, one at Christmas and the other in the spring. Directed by Mr. Gilbert, the choir also assisted Hi-Y with the Thanksgiving and Easter assemblies. A tour of the neighboring grade schools was taken in the spring to promote interest in vocal music among future R-B students. Highlighting the year was participation in the West Suburban Conference Music Festival at Lyons Township High School.

As the date of the Christmas Concert draws near, Choir members strive for musical perfection.

Instrumental ensembles strove for tonal perfection

Exhibiting superior skill in rendering classical as well as contemporary musical selections, the ORCHESTRA, conducted by Mr. Harold Collins, performed at the Music Festival in the spring and at the West Suburban Conference Music Festival. Composed of the string ensemble and selected band students, the entire orchestra could assemble only after school. Despite this handicap, the orchestra developed into a superior musical organization.

Under the direction of Mr. Harold Collins, the BAND displayed its musical ability at all home football games and at its spring and winter concerts. It also boosted school spirit by playing at the home basketball games and pep assemblies. Instrumental groups and soloists went to Champaign in the spring to participate in the state music contest.

Entering its second successful year, CHESS CLUB, under the sponsorship of Mr. Wallin, strove toward the mastery of chess skills. During the year, chess experts were invited to some of the meetings, and often combined their lectures with demonstration games against all of the members. As an active member of the West Suburban Chess Entente, Chess Club took part in both individual and team matches which the Entente sponsored.

Sponsored by Mr. Swanson, CAMERA CLUB was open to any student interested in increasing his knowledge of photographic techniques. Much valuable information was gained through movies, guest speakers, and field trips. The members also had the opportunity to gain practical experience through the actual taking and developing of pictures.

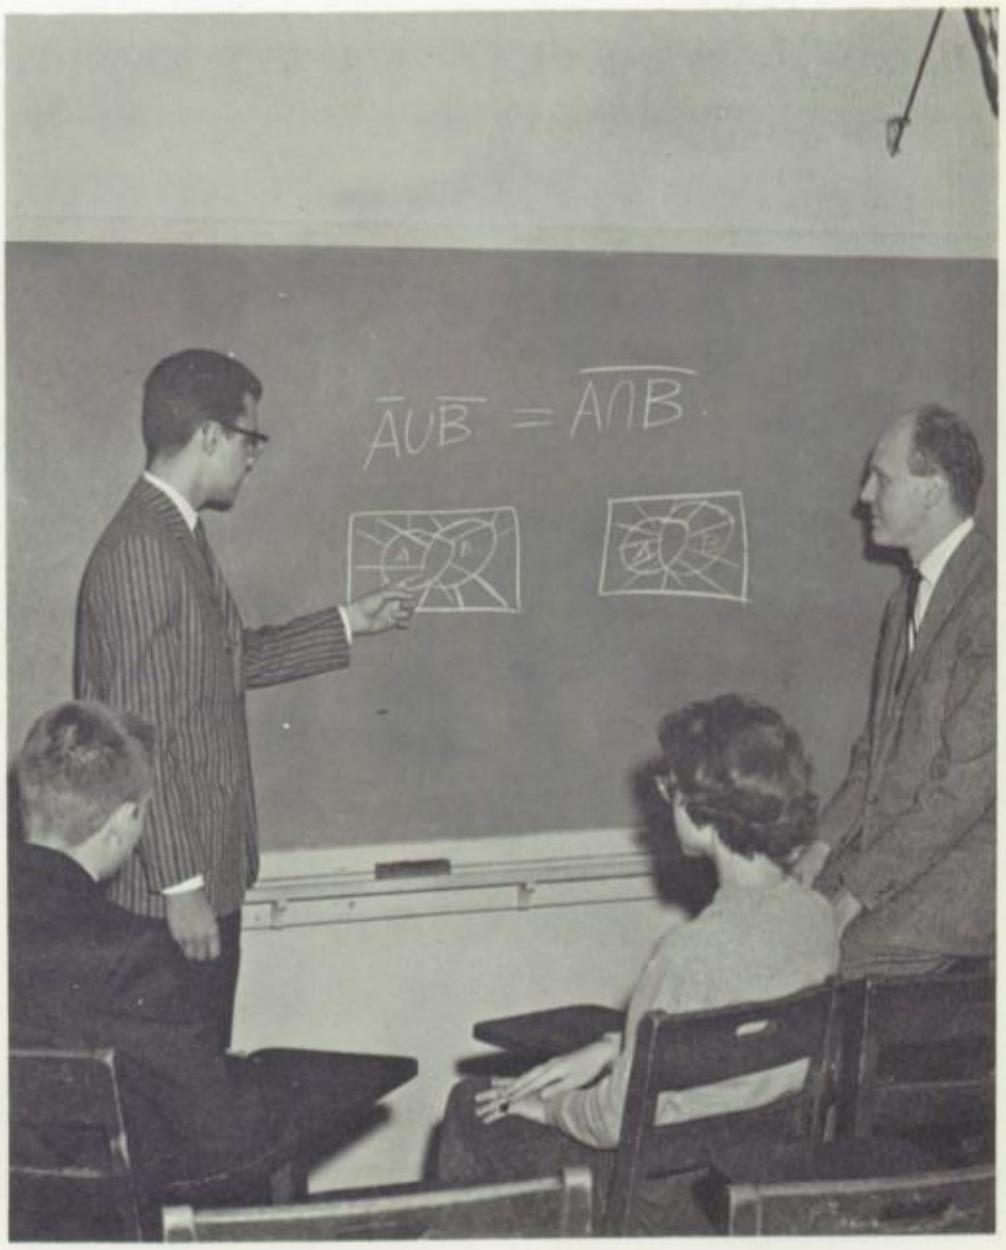
Guided by Mrs. Klein, BIOS LOGOS again furthered the interests of students in biology by offering them many opportunities to delve deeper into this fascinating realm of science. The various phases of biology were studied through the help of films, field trips, guest speakers, and panel discussions led by the members. Pleasure and knowledge were skillfully combined to make this another wonderful year for Bios Logos.

A unique type of program highlighted MATH CLUB this year. Members led the meetings and were thus given the chance to share their knowledge with the others. Doing research work on their own and guided by Mr. Nemecek, each student explored the phases of mathematics which most intrigued him. In this way, students delved into fields of this subject not covered by high school courses and stimulated their interests in mathematics.



A difficult problem is explained by Math Club President Paul Palmquist as Vice-president George Kralovec, Secretary Joyce Rada, and Sponsor Mr. Nemecek look on.

Mrs. Arnold enjoyed the services of more than a dozen students who aided her as OFFICE ASSISTANTS. Both boys and girls reported to the personnel office during their study halls to perform countless duties. The assistants checked absentees by collecting attendance slips every first and eighth hour and delivered messages to students in classrooms and study halls. The students also ran errands for teachers and proved to be extremely helpful to Mrs. Arnold.

To help Miss Suchy, the school nurse, with daily health problems, fifteen girls spent one study hall a day as NURSE'S ASSISTANTS. These girls answered the telephone, delivered notes to various students, arranged rides for sick students, and helped to administer the vision and hearing tests given in physical education classes. Many of the girls planned a nursing career and hoped that this training would prove helpful during their preparation for the vocation.

Throughout the school — in a classroom, the Auditorium, or in the Little Theatre — the MOVIE OPERATORS manipulated the equipment that made it possible for students to enjoy the many films that supplemented ordinary classwork. Sponsored by Mr. Kutcosky, the boys gave up a study hall a day to offer this valuable assistance.

The STAGE TECHNICIANS worked diligently behind the scenes at band and choir concerts, the school plays, and lyceums. The boys, sponsored by Mr. Rainey, handled scenery and operated electrical equipment.

Daily assisting their school were the LIBRARY AIDES. Each aide gave up a study hall to assist students with reference work, sort bookcards, and mount clippings. The girls learned library skills from their sponsor, Mrs. Campbell, and participated in monthly and special meetings.

Under the direction of Miss Flora, the GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION again provided a wide variety of both individual and team sports in which any interested girl could participate. Activities ranging from field hockey to modern dance not only helped the girls to spend their leisure time profitably, but also enabled them to develop physically as well as socially. Some special events were the G.A.A. Red Hot Night, the Christmas Pizza Party, the Initiation Tea, the Dad-Daughter Play Night, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet. Each girl strove to earn the points which went toward membership and awards. The sports activities, the friendly group competition, and the fun and good spirit that is part of G.A.A. were enjoyed by every girl.

New swim show routines are reviewed by Sabrina Swim Club officers, Secretary-treasurer Judith Mulac and President Linda Jarosik, with the aid of Sponsor Miss Wilkens. Vice-president Sharon Koe is not pictured.

Directed by their sponsor, Mr. Perkins, LIFE GUARD CLUB dedicated itself to another year of service. Both during and after school, members could be found teaching students to swim, guiding others in the principles of water safety, helping the instructors in the physical education swimming classes, and aiding in such activities as the Invitational Swim Meet and the Water Show. As lifeguards, they learned to accept responsibility and were rewarded by the self confidence they gained and the enjoyment they found in helping others.

SABRINA SWIM CLUB, a special club which is a part of G.A.A., did a great deal toward furthering interest in water ballet and synchronized swimming at R-B. Under the direction of Miss Wilkens, the girls worked diligently to improve their aquatic skills. The many hours of practice were well spent, judging by the swim show which Sabrina presented in early spring. The members did a wonderful job creating the routines, directing the show, and performing in it. Sabrina also participated in festivals sponsored by the Academy of Aquatic Art.

The newly organized PEP CLUB, sponsored by Miss TenBusch, aided the cheerleaders and heightened school spirit. The club was formed at the beginning of the basketball season, and members attended all home games. Dressed alike in white blouses, the students learned the cheers and supported the team by voicing their spirit.

Instructions for the proper firing of arms are given to members by Mr. Lewis Jenkins.

Members of the RIFLE CLUB earned various awards and learned the proper techniques of handling and firing their weapons. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Lewis Jenkins, the club met regularly after school in the rifle range in the basement between the boys' and girls' locker rooms to practice and improve their marksmanship. Members competed in the National Postal Matches every month. Although only in its fourth year, Rifle Club was one of the largest and most active clubs in the school.

A group of freshmen and sophomores enjoyed the activities of their dramatics club, JESTERS. Lead by Vicki Vala, president; Betsie Vojta, vice-president; Barbara Polulach, secretary; Cynthia Wilkison, treasurer; and Mr. Sanders, sponsor; the members widened their knowledge of dramatics through monthly meetings and trips to the Goodman Theater.

Juniors and seniors who were dramatically inclined took an active part in MASQUE AND WIG this year. With the aid of Mr. Cohen, sponsor, the members spent their time learning about dramatics and the art of make-up. The group and its officers, Glen Hess, president; Michele Evans, vice-president; Susan Kessel, secretary; and Marion Van Wagner, treasurer; also participated in two excellent plays given in the fall and the spring.

All girls interested in nursing gladly took advantage of the varied activities of FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA CLUB. At different meetings a laboratory technician, a physical therapist, and a nurse acquainted the girls with the various fields of nursing. Ably sponsored by Miss Suchy, the girls participated in interesting trips to various hospitals and made cancer dressing for the American Cancer Society.

Girls with an interest in a teaching career were welcomed into the FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA CLUB. During monthly meetings, members of the club, which was sponsored by Miss Shipley and Mrs. Krause, heard teachers and principals speak about the different fields of education. Members attended regional workshops and observed teachers in action on teacher visitation day. In March, the Illinois Association of Future Teachers of America Convention, which local members planned and hosted, was held at R-B.

President Carol Vascik types plans for the pot luck dinner while Sponsor Miss Hewitt, Vice-president Nancy Evert, Secretary Sue Slosar, and Treasurer Darlene Myles offer their suggestions.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Pinkerton, the officers of HOME ECONOMICS CLUB planned an activity-filled program including a fall picnic, a Christmas party, and a Mother-Daughter Tea in the spring. Membership in the club was extended to all girls who had been enrolled in a home economics course. This year club members decided to become affiliated with the Future Homemakers of America, a national homemaking organization. This new association further benefited those girls interested in all phases of home economics.

Business and pleasure were combined in the club activities of SCRIBBLERS. The club's sponsor, Miss Hewitt, helped the officers to organize the year's program. Anyone who had one full credit in business and a genuine interest in furthering his knowledge of business trends and office occupations was eligible for membership. The activities of the year included business movies and guest speakers. The year was highlighted by a Mother-Daughter Banquet.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Howey, the SPANISH CLUB held a bake sale and participated in the annual Homecoming festivities by building a float. The most outstanding activity of the successful year was the trip to a Spanish restaurant for an authentic taste of Spanish customs.

The FRENCH CLUB, sponsored by Mrs. Wallin, was an ambitious organization at R-B. Gaining understanding of the French language and customs, the members enjoyed movies, a progressive dinner, and an excursion to a French opera.

PRO MERITO, R-B's honor Latin club, afforded enthusiastic and interested students with an opportunity for fun and a chance to gain knowledge of Roman customs and times. At the monthly meetings, games, movies, and special speakers provided both information and enjoyment. Under the direction of Sponsor Mrs. Hoppert, the Roman Banquet, complete with stolas and togas, became the club's highlight of the year.

With specially planned features at the monthly meetings, the GERMAN CLUB had a very successful program this past year. In addition to the educational games and speakers, the club members planned an excursion trip to a German restaurant followed by a German movie. With such a wide variety of activities, the German Club offered its members a chance to explore German culture and adequately supplemented the regular class work.

Athletics

Whether competing on the gridiron, diamond, track, or turf, R-B athletes strove for victory and good sportsmanship. Fine coaches and outstanding individuals paced the teams through rigorous training that they might attain every sportsman's goal: victory. Certain R-B teams fared better than others, and some gained conference and even state-wide recognition. Augmenting the spirit at each athletic contest, the cheerleaders endeavored to support the teams. Win or lose, R-B athletes displayed a fighting spirit of which all students could be proud.

R-B sportsmen exhibited skill and determination in tough athletic competition

Jon Fistonich, tackle and three year letterman, had the rare distinction of earning three monograms as a regular member of the varsity squad, having first joined the team as a sophomore.

Don Dolezal, hard-hitting shortstop, was chosen for the All-conference Baseball Team last year. As an outstanding fielder and a .350 hitter, he was a unanimous choice of conference coaches for the all-conference squad.

Nick Faul, senior co-captain of the Bullfrogs, broke the old school record by swimming the 50-yard free style in 24.8 seconds. Nick also holds the school record in the 100-yard free style, 56.2 seconds.

Among the many fine athletes who have competed in the name of R-B, a few have achieved special distinction. In an effort to acknowledge these hard-working athletes, Rouser asked all coaches to choose individuals in each sport whom they considered special assets to the teams. Spring sports competitors were chosen on the basis of last year's performance. With the co-operation of Mr. Fickas, athletic director, the coaches' votes were compiled and recorded. The results of this poll appear on these pages.

The athletes recognized here, among others, have created and sustained winning spirit within their respective teams and displayed exceptional ability in their sport. Rouser is proud to honor these outstanding athletes of R-B.

The Rouser presents R-B's outstanding athletes

John Holland, co-captain of the varsity football team, was selected by his teammates as the Most Valuable Player. He also received the distinction of being named to the All-state team in his senior year and to the All-conference team in both his junior and senior years.

Mel Schmidt, who wrestled in the 165-pound class, was undefeated in conference competition and was named to the West Suburban All-conference Wrestling Team because of this outstanding record.

Jim Schuler, co-captain of the swim squad, was a member of the R-B relay team that tied a national record. Jim set a new school record of 1:10 in the 100-yard breast stroke.

Ed Hrkel, center fielder on the varsity baseball team, was elected to the West Suburban All-conference Baseball Team in his junior year. His hustling spirit, fine fielding, and powerful hitting aided the team immensely.

Warren Stanek, 215-pound senior fullback, was selected by the conference coaches as a member of the All-conference squad. For two years the regular fullback, Warren's fine play on offense proved a definite asset to the team.

Men on the gridiron fought staunchly for blue and

Coach Perkins felt that a combination of student and community support coupled with team spirit and outstanding defensive plays resulted in an excellent VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM. Both the team's desire to win and the knowledge that they could win carried the Bulldogs to a fourth place berth with four wins and three losses, a record of which both team members and coaches could be proud. Warren Stanek and Douglas Lange copped All-Conference honors with John Holland, who also made the All-State squad.

The Bulldogs display defensive skill as they prevent an opposing back from gaining yardage.

R-B 26 Downers Grove 21
Playing in a muddy field during a torrential rainfall, the Bulldogs were far behind in the beginning of the game. Two touchdowns in the third stanza of the game gave the team the lead they needed to win.

R-B 13 LaGrange 7
School spirit was really high at the second conference game. L-T had been R-B's undefeated rival for eleven years, and hopes of winning the game were high. The Bulldogs' brick-wall defense proved to be too much for the Lions.

R-B 13 Arlington 20
Entering the only night game of the season with two conference wins, mounting excitement proved contagious. Spectators saw the most unusual play of the season when tackle Jon Fistonich ran eighty-eight yards for a touchdown. The game was close all the way, but even the spectacular touchdown failed to prevent R-B's first defeat.

R-B 35 Glenbard 7
Homecoming weekend recalled many alumni to see their alma mater do its best. The fans were elated when the Bulldogs racked up thirty-five points to the Bards' seven.

R-B 19 York 12
Rain and cold again greeted the R-B eleven but was unsuccessful in dampening team spirit. The Bulldogs racked up their fourth conference win by dunking the Dukes nineteen to twelve. Hopes of winning the West Suburban Conference championship were high, but R-B had yet to contend with the two toughest conference teams.

R-B 0 Hinsdale 19
Under the almost impossible conditions of a soggy football field, the Bulldogs were able to accomplish little. Although they fought desperately, the R-B eleven were unable to hold Hinsdale's strong squad and lost all hopes for the WSC championship.

R-B 0 Maine 6
Dads' Day brought many proud fathers to the home stands to watch their sons battle Maine's strong team. The Bulldogs suffered a heartbreaking defeat, but showed their real strength by holding the conference championship team to only six points.

During the tough 1959 gridiron season, the FROSH-SOPH FOOTBALL TEAM practiced daily in all kinds of weather in hopes of helping to build next year's varsity squad. The most outstanding plays which were executed were the many fine interceptions. Roy Green's exceptional running ability proved a great asset to the team. The Pups displayed excellent sportsmanship behind the coaching of Mr. VandeMerkt, and finished the season with a 3-4-1 record.

Since many of the boys were playing football for the first time, the FRESHMAN FOOTBALL TEAM started from the bottom up. Learning the basic fundamentals of passing, blocking, and tackling kept the boys busy during their many practice sessions. Games were played with the other conference teams on Monday evenings, giving the boys a chance to gain much needed experience for next year's football season. Although they did not win any games, the frosh learned the basic plays and the art of teamwork, perhaps the most important phase of any team sport.

R-B 53 Downers Grove 51
Going into their first conference game with a 2-2 record, the Bulldogs edged the Trojans in a thrilling overtime climax. Baskets by Glen Hess and Bob Schmidt in the final minutes decided the game.

R-B 34 LaGrange 58
The cagers suffered their first conference defeat at the hands of their old foes. At the end of the first quarter the Lions had only a three point edge, but in the next three periods they gradually pulled further ahead.

R-B 32 Arlington 65
Overpowered from the opening tip, R-B bowed to a strong Cardinal squad by 33 points. High scorer for the Bulldogs was junior Ed Custer who hit for 12 tallies.

R-B 60 Glenbard 70
Taking the lead at the start of the game, the hoopsters ended the half ahead, 29-24. During the third quarter, however, the Hilltoppers began to hit from outside. Glenbard took the lead and kept it through the fourth quarter.

R-B 56 York 78
York took a four point lead in the first period and kept ahead till half-time when the score stood 34-23. The cagers rallied in the fourth quarter but could not break through the fine York defense.

R-B 47 Hinsdale 65
Bulldog defense held Hinsdale's star guard Marty Riessen to three baskets, but it could not stop the Devils, who topped the R-B-ites by 19 points.

R-B 59 Maine 69
R-B's first period lead dwindled before an especially spirited Maine team. The Demons' third period rally stretched their lead to a 69-59 final score.

R-B 58 LaGrange 72
Fourteen points was the difference in a hard fought contest between the Bulldogs and the Lions. Bob Schmidt led the scoring with 29 points.

R-B 60 Arlington 70
Playing a new zone defense, the Bulldogs used Bob Schmidt as a "chaser," guarding Cardinal star Bork. Despite this, the Arlington squad overcame the cager's half-time lead and outscored the R-B-ites in both the third and fourth quarters.

R-B 50 Glenbard 61
The Bulldogs again used their zone defense and led the Hilltoppers 10-9 at the end of the first period. During the fourth quarter, however, Glenbard started to move and tallied 29.

R-B 48 York 56
The hoopsters took it on the chin, falling behind in the second quarter after leading 19-13 at the end of the first period. Being a fast break team, York kept the ball moving and, in the last frame, outscored the Bulldogs.

R-B 41 Hinsdale 99
Lead by Marty Reissen and Harold Brandt, the Devils clinched the West Suburban Conference championship with a 58-point margin at R-B's last home game.

R-B 54 Maine 72
The R-B five were again conquered by a strong Maine squad by a last half surge in the final game of the season.

Driven by the incentive to make the VARSITY WRESTLING TEAM a success, Mr. Kmieciak and the boys did their best to achieve victory. Daily workouts after school kept the grapplers in prime condition. Student support of the team was boosted by holding double headers with the swimming team.

Under their new coach, Mr. Agin, the FROSH-SOPH WRESTLING TEAM practiced daily and learned the fundamentals of the sport. Team spirit was evident throughout the season as the boys prepared for future varsity competition.

With a mighty thrust, John Holland heaves the shot put far into the field.

In February the 1959 VARSITY TRACK TEAM, under the coaching of Mr. Wesbey, Mr. Nikcevich, and Mr. Kmieciak, began rigorous training for the coming season. In the spring the boys moved from the school basement to the outside track where the team started practicing field events, such as the pole vault and the shot put. However, the relays and other running events were the team's real strong points. The varsity had a good season with about a .500 average. R-B was the host for the West Suburban Conference Track Meet in May which brought eight schools together in track and field competition. In this meet the FROSH-SOPH TEAM showed great possibilities for future seasons.

Under the supervision of Mr. Lossin, the 1959 VARSITY BASEBALL TEAM energetically practiced ball skills each day in readiness for rigorous competition with other West Suburban Conference schools. Ed Hrkel and Don Dolezal, especially outstanding players, were chosen for the West Suburban All-Conference Baseball Team. The R-B nine won several tournament games at the climax of the season. At final count, the team had scored nine wins, eight losses, and one tie.

Diligent practice in batting and fielding was emphasized as the 1959 FROSH-SOPH BASEBALL TEAM strove to match the skill and determination of their varsity counterparts. The team, coached by Mr. Wadington, perfected styles and plays in an attempt to conquer their hard-hitting adversaries. They played a succession of conference games in the traditional round robin system besides meeting teams in non-conference battles.

Athletic prowess drew

The members of R-B's CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS, coached by Mr. Calisch, worked diligently to improve team spirit and the final conference standings. The varsity, co-captained by George Miller and Robert Scaman, devoted many practice hours to conscientious training in preparation for every meet. The team took fifth place in the highly competitive West Suburban Conference. The FROSH-SOPH also strove to improve individual timings through extensive practice and hard work.

During the 1959 season, the TENNIS TEAM of Riverside-Brookfield High School conscientiously practiced hoping to better the showing of the previous season's squad. Faced with unusually tough conference competition, the team took sixth place in the West Suburban Conference team standings. Guided by Coach Nemecek, the netmen greatly improved team spirit and acquired valuable experience for next year's season.

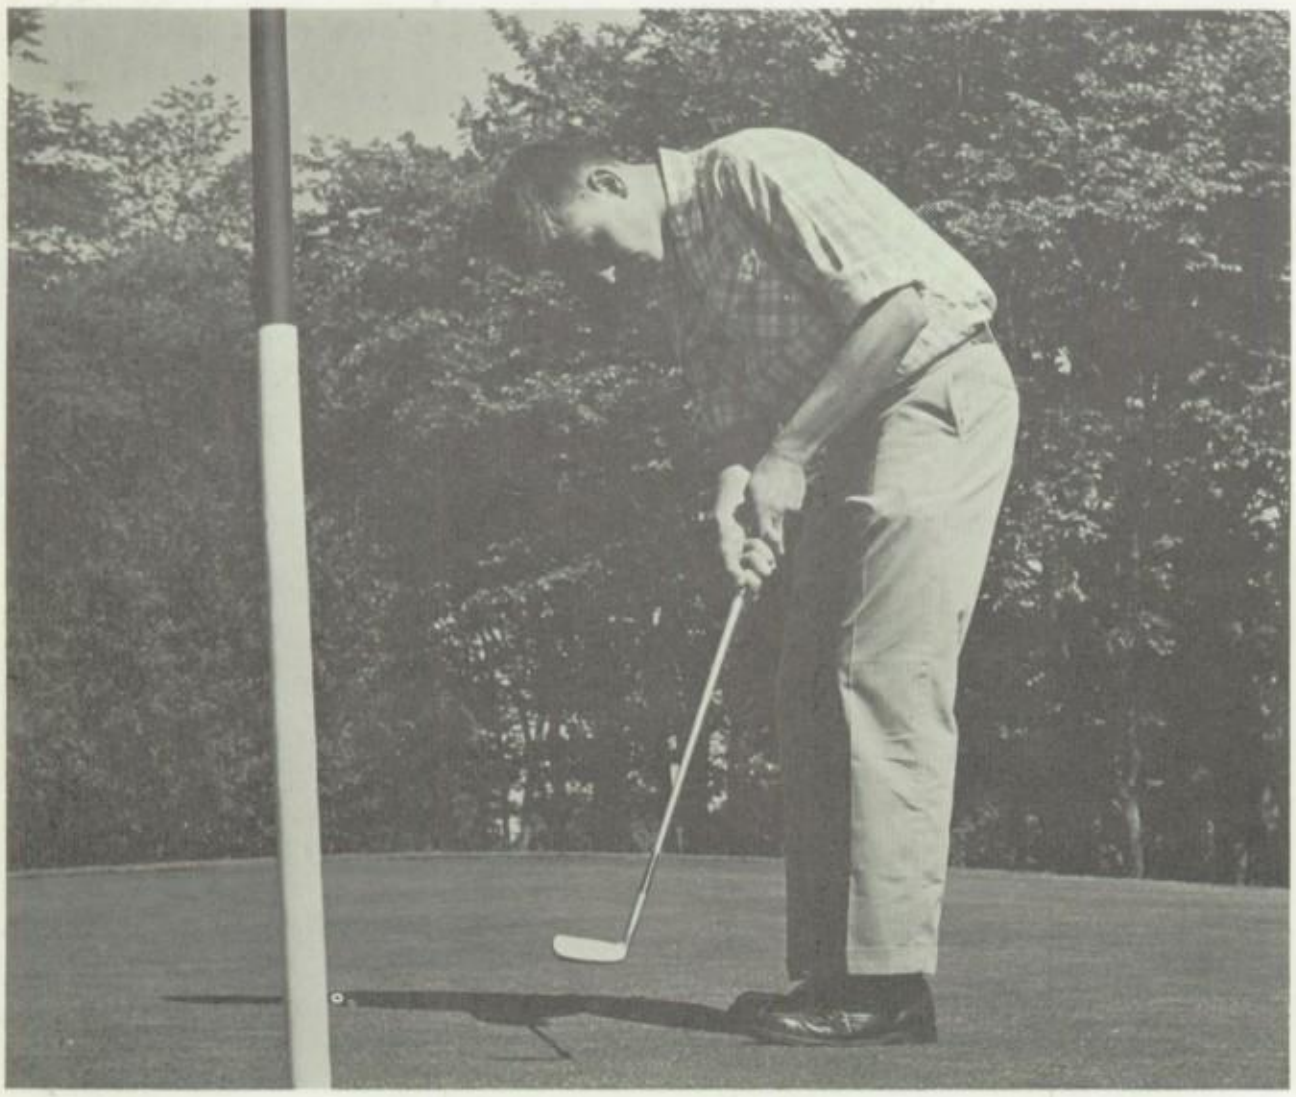
With accuracy the winning putt is sunk.



Aided by the coaching of Mr. Luebben, a fine golfer himself, the 1959 VARSITY GOLF TEAM practiced their putting, long distance shots, and other skills in preparation for the team's numerous meets. The varsity team ended the season with a sixth position conference berth.

The FROSH-SOPH GOLF TEAM was sparked by good players and excellent potentiality. At the end of the season, the boys had earned a third place conference mark.

Encouraging athletic competitors with their enthusiastic cheers, VARSITY AND FROSH-SOPH CHEERLEADERS promoted both school spirit and team victories. Sponsored by Miss Oetting, the eight varsity cheerleaders were chosen the previous spring, while the six frosh-soph cheerleaders gained their places on the squad in the fall. Four of the varsity girls brought back new cheers from Illinois State Normal College, where they had spent a week in the cheerleading camp.

After Hours

After the school day was completed, the R-B student found it necessary and enjoyable to engage in co-curricular activities. He found that help was always needed when dance time drew near, or when there were meetings or conventions to participate in or plan. For the dramatic-minded R-B-ite, the plays afforded experience plus hard work. The whole school turned out to help make Homecoming Weekend a glorious success. All of the after hours activities broadened the scope of interest of the R-B-ite.

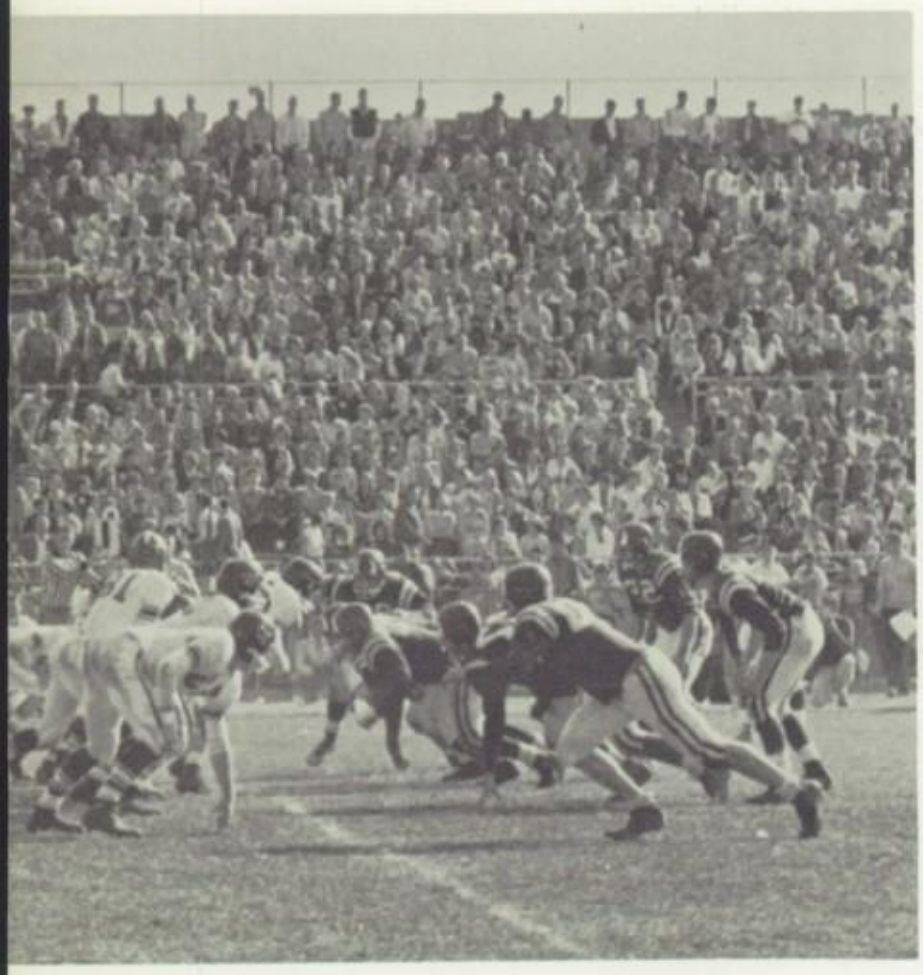
An excitement-filled Homecoming

"We ain't got a barrel of money," sings Diane Parker, Janet Suchomel, Joanne Bucz, Elayne Tiritilli, and Lynn Weihofen.



The Bulldogs wait anxiously for Glenbard to snap the ball in an exciting moment of the Homecoming game.

The fun and excitement of Riverside-Brookfield's fiftieth homecoming weekend held many golden memories for the students, the faculty, and the community.

At the pep-rally the Queen's court was announced. Barbara DeGraaf, Mary Kratochvil, Sharon McHugh, and Elaine Polacek had the honor and privilege of being on Queen Bunny Booster's court. After the Queen and her court were announced, Bunny led the way to the bonfire. A rousing cheer went up as a Glenbard player was burned in effigy.

Saturday morning's parade began another big day. The floats on which the students had worked so hard were worth every minute of the time spent on them. A prize was awarded to Hi-Y's float, "Golden Wings to Victory," for best carrying out the theme, "R-B's Golden Anniversary." First prize went to the goose who laid the golden egg—Sharclub's "So Proud," and the Future Teacher's kitten—"Our team is PURRfect," won second prize.

The frosh-soph set the pace for the varsity by winning their contest nineteen to six. The varsity squad was really on its toes, holding the Bards to seven while racking up thirty-five for the victory.

Climaxing the weekend was the Homecoming dance, "Golden Memories." The floor show of mummies, beatniks, bums, and flappers was one of the best ever.

From the Friday night pep-rally and bonfire, until the last moments of the dance on Saturday night, everyone felt that this was one of the most wonderful Homecoming weekends ever.

Weekend saluted fifty years of "Golden Memories"

Mr. Cohen gives last minute instructions to the anxious cast of Night Must Fall during the final dress rehearsal.

Madame Arcati, played by Carol Kostka, is in a deep trance as "Blithe Spirit" characters George Marino, Judy Hummel, Russell Bellis, and Karen Knoska anticipate her revival with mixed concern.

As a major part of the year's activities, Masque and Wig produced two renowned dramatic works. In November, Night Must Fall, an English mystery by Emlyn Williams, was presented. Later in the year, Blithe Spirit, Noel Coward's Broadway comedy concerning supernatural visitations, was also given.

The players were ably directed by Mr. Cohen, who has had considerable experience in the production of many professional plays throughout the theatrical circuits.

Riverside-Brookfield Township

Four years pass swiftly—especially the exciting high school years. Suddenly a student finds himself in cap and gown, walking across a platform, and—in one short second of eternity—a hand reaches out and grasps a diploma. With this small gesture, a phase of life is terminated, a series of achievements, experiences, and impressions are completed. The 1960 Rouser staff wishes that all R-B students will reflect the worthwhile knowledge gained in these transitory years.

Dear Penny—
I'll always remember our private conversation.
Viva la — — oh well!
Love,
Karen

Dear Penny,
Happy Birthday!! I could write a long letter remembering all the good times we've had together. However, I'll leave the space for someone else to sign and I'll never forget.
Love always.
Betty

Good Luck to a future Yonkers Leaf Hand
